

XM Radio is the greatest entertainment on the air today. The government should keep their nose out of their programming. Is the federal government turning to dictatorship by telling radio stations what their allowed to broadcast?